Based in Düsseldorf, Jansen Advising is a law firm specialised in tax advisory and business consultancy. Dedicated to shaping its client's success, the firm helps them making the right decisions to improve and grow their business. Jansen Advising offers client's more than 20 years of experience in the fields of controlling, finance, accountancy, taxes, and business management in an international environment. The firm has a strong focus on digitalisation and shares all of its analysis electronically wherever possible. These digital tools enable businesses to access relevant data whenever and wherever, and allows them to communicate effectively from any location in the world.

Jansen Advising's business consultancy services gives businesses transparency, using key performance indicators (KPIs), dashboards, and scorecards – indicating potentials and possible improvements. The firm creates reports that display financial and operational KPIs – fully-customised to the client's business needs. It acts as their partner, maintaining a constant dialogue with companies to review reports and developments. Jansen Advising is just as proactive in its tax advisory services, helping clients plan their taxes well in advance so that they don't experience any unwanted surprises.

The judging panel was particularly impressed with the firm's taxation services, delivered by its dynamic in-house team and network of specialist partners. Jansen Advising's expertise is widely-valued and it offers a number of services that help its clients stay on top of their finances and business development. Business accounting reports deliver a timely analysis of the business, and ensures it is consistently up to date, whilst the firm is always on-hand to support companies through matters of transfer pricing and international taxation. The advisory services are also widely used by private individuals, where there is a particular focus on long-term tax planning and structural tax advice. Annual financial statements and tax returns are prepared according to the client's needs, and Jansen Advising's quarterly tax updates ensure that clients are constantly up to date with current tax law and jurisdictions.
